Q2 Is Certification testing still available in your state- Paper and Pencil?
No,
Other (please specify):
Until the COVID 19 epidemic is over and state institutions reopen, no testing will occur at those centers. All SC facilities have been closed to anyone from outside, so no proctored sessions or electronic exams can be given in a state facility. In an emergency, a non-state facility could be used for proctored exams, but this would be for less than ten people at a time and at the discretion of the Department of Pesticide Regulation.

Q3 Is Certification testing still available in your state- Computer based?
No

Q4 Is face to face training still available in your state (either by SLA or PSEP)?
No,
Other (please specify):
At this time, no testing can occur in a state facility. Emergency arrangements could be made, but at the discretion of the DPR.

Q5 What measures are you considering?
Discussions are being held now. No decisions have been made.
Q6 Does your state require licensing for the commercial (for hire) use of general use germicides or disinfectants? If yes, will those requirements be relaxed during this crisis- please use comment box?

No,
Other (please specify): GUP disinfectant use in SC for the purposes of cleaning and sanitation requires no license.

Q1 What is your contact information?
Name: Megan Patterson
Agency/Tribal Program: Board of Pesticides Control
State/Territory/Tribe: Maine
Email Address: megan.l.patterson@maine.gov
Phone Number: 2072872731

Q2 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Paper and Pencil?
No,
Other (please specify):
Due to building closures, all certification exams are canceled through the first week in April. Further cancelations will be evaluated on April 1.

Q3 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Computer based?
No,
Other (please specify):
Computer based testing has never been available in Maine. While this is an excellent alternative to paper exams, Maine’s computer testing centers are also closed at this time.

Q4 Is face to face training still available in your state (either by SLA or PSEP)?
No,
Other (please specify):
Additionally, gatherings of more than 10 individuals are not currently allowed.

Q5 What measures are you considering?
The Board currently offers numerous options of pre-approved online certification courses. These are posted on the Board’s Credit Calendar--http://www.maine.gov/dacf/php/pesticides/credit_calendar.shtml
Q6 Does your state require licensing for the commercial (for hire) use of general use germicides or disinfectants? If yes, will those requirements be relaxed during this crisis- please use comment box?

Yes,
Other (please specify):
If those products are applied with powered equipment and used for other than routine cleaning. Those requirements have not yet been relaxed.

Q2 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Paper and Pencil?

No

Q3 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Computer based?

Yes,
Other (please specify):
Testing Sites are limited at this point in time. All Pearson Vue owned testing centers are temporarily closed. Some independently owned testing centers are still open.

Q4 Is face to face training still available in your state (either by SLA or PSEP)?

No,
Other (please specify):
No face-to-face training at this point in time for commercial applicators. They have been canceled and some rescheduled to a later date. Private applicators do not have a face-to-face option at this point either.

Q5 What measures are you considering?

We are proposing to give commercial applicators an extension if their recertification is due as there are no training programs at this point in time for them and testing is very limited. Private applicators will have the option to certify or recertify using Zoom rather than face-to-face meetings.

Name: Doug Owens
Agency/Tribal Program: Illinois Dept. of Agriculture
State/Territory/Tribe: Illinois
Email Address: doug.owens@illinois.gov
Phone Number: 217-836-8015

Q2 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Paper and Pencil?

No,
Other (please specify): All testing has been suspended. We are working on testing opportunities after COVID response procedures are relaxed.

Q3 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Computer based?

No,
Other (please specify): We currently have no capabilities. We may look into computer based testing options.

Q4 Is face to face training still available in your state (either by SLA or PSEP)?

No

Q5 What measures are you considering?

Illinois is extending the licenses which expired 12/31/19 of all applicators who have not yet tested through 12/31/20. All who wish to work as operators who are not covered by the license extension will be allowed to work as non-certified applicators under the direct supervision of a certified applicator through the end of this year. We are still weighing options regarding reciprocal licenses and the certification testing of those who wish to become newly certified applicators.

Q6 Does your state require licensing for the commercial (for hire) use of general use germicides or disinfectants? If yes, will those requirements be relaxed during this crisis- please use comment box?

Email Address: robby.personette@wisconsin.gov
Phone Number: 608-224-4542

Q2 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Paper and Pencil?

No,
Other (please specify):
To the general public - no, testing is not available right now. However, we are working on a plan that would allow small numbers of individuals (10 or less) to test on an as needed basis. These tests would be administered for our General Agriculture (Private), Commercial Field and Vegetable Crop Applicators, and Structural Pest Control applicators (commercial).

Q3 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Computer based?

No,
Other (please specify):
Wisconsin would appreciate any information from AAPCO, and/or AAPCO members on what system(s) are used for computer based certification, and any lessons learned in developing/using those system(s).

Q4 Is face to face training still available in your state (either by SLA or PSEP)?

No

Q5 What measures are you considering?

Electronic testing (if readily available and able to be rapidly deployed). Training is available via the form of an electronic (i.e. PDF, etc.) manual, as the mailing of training manuals has been temporarily suspended.
Q6 Does your state require licensing for the commercial (for hire) use of general use germicides or disinfectants? If yes, will those requirements be relaxed during this crisis- please use comment box?

Email Address: bob.blankenburg@alaska.gov
Phone Number: 907-269-7690

Q2 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Paper and Pencil?
No,
Other (please specify): We have gone to computer-based testing.

Q3 Is Certification testing still available in your state-Computer based?
Yes,
Other (please specify):
Note: We use our University system’s test centers for proctored testing, via computer. The University system is shut down to in-person education, and the test centers are shut down as a result. We are offering limited in-person testing at our DEC Pesticide Control Program office in Wasilla, for now.

Q4 Is face to face training still available in your state (either by SLA or PSEP)?
No,
Other (please specify):
At this point, Extension is shut down until the end of the month. The DEC Pesticide Control Program does have training materials available on our webpage.

Q5 What measures are you considering?

We have considered extending proctored test taking to the other DEC offices; however, a number of staff are already working remotely, and it is quite possible that State offices could be shut down soon.
Q6 Does your state require licensing for the commercial (for hire) use of general use germicides or disinfectants? If yes, will those requirements be relaxed during this crisis- please use comment box?

No
